

AGENT PROFILE

John Esway

John started his commercial real estate career in 1980 in the Silicon Valley where he was born and raised. He specialized in industrial real estate representing many landlords and tenants/buyers. In his tenure as real estate broker, he was involved in numerous transactions where he leased and sold over a billion dollars in real estate.

He moved his family in 1989 to the Sacramento region and joined Cornish and Carey. John was offered large signing bonuses to join 3 different major firms in the Sacramento region because of his reputation in the Silicon Valley marketplace. Brokerage was just the beginning of his commercial real estate career. He utilized his vast knowledge of both landlords and tenants to embark on a new path. In 1996, he began developing speculative buildings for owner users and eventually moved on to a large development company and was a partner in many industrial and office projects.

John was involved in developing over three million square feet of office and industrial property. In 2008, John decided to stop taking financial risks and eventually joined Crossroad Ventures Group alongside his brother and best friend. Jim Esway and John have been competing all their lives and now join forces to provide a service platform unprecedented in the Sacramento marketplace.
